FEDERATION'S REPORT ON SEWER PROMISED FOR THE NEXT C. OF C. GATHERING

Directors Hear of Realty Board's Annexation Plans for District Near Pumping Plant on San Fernando Road

SUPERVISOR WRIGHT IS GUEST AT MEETING

Committee Selected to Sponsor Glendale Troop No. 3, Boy Scouts, to Complete Its National Organization; Forum Dinner Plans

A thorough report on the investigation of the sewer situation in Glendale will be made by the Federated Improvement association at the next meeting of that organization, was the report made to the chamber of commerce directors at their meeting yesterday, by Dr. Jessie Russell, chairman of the chamber civics committee. She also called the attention of the board to a strip of road entering Edendale that is in particularly bad condition for automobile travel. She asked that an attempt be made to coordinate the various committees in this city that are working to have the street improved.

A communication from the realty board asking the chamber of commerce to cooperate in the matter of securing the annexation to Glendale of that territory northwest of the city pumping plant on the San Fernando road between the pumping station and the Burbank city line was read. This request was referred to the highway committee.

County Supervisor Henry Wright of this district was present and made a short talk.

Attorney George H. King tendered his resignation as chairman of the transportation committee. His resignation was accepted as was the resignation of Dr. Henry Harrower. E. D. Yard and Mr. Gilhuley were appointed to fill the vacancies.

H. F. Benner, scout executive for the Verdugo Hills district council, Boy Scouts of America, in a communication, asked that the chamber of commerce appoint a committee to sponsor the Glendale Troop No. 3. He said that before the troop can become recognized as a part of the national organization it must be sponsored by a committee of adults.

The directors ordered that a committee of three members of the organization, headed by Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders, be appointed to sponsor this troop.

The matter of forum meetings for the coming winter was discussed. It was decided to hold these meetings on the third Thursday of each month, starting in September. These meetings will be dinner meetings and will be held alternately at night and at noon.

In his address to the board of directors Supervisor Wright said in opening: "It is easy to see why Glendale has made the rapid growth for which it is famous. When I see a bunch of men sitting down as you are today and discussing the affairs of the city with such enthusiasm and "pep," that is evidence of the reason for the city's growth."

He told of the recent trip taken by himself and other members of the county board to Eureka to attend the supervisors' convention. He said that the principal subject discussed by the assembled supervisors of the state was the regulation of the speed and weight of loads hauled over the highways to save money now being spent annually for repairs.

The supervisors, realizing that the loads being hauled over the highways must be reduced, are preparing some recommendations to be presented to the state legislature at the next session of that body. These recommendations will carry a request that the present permitted tonnage over the highways of the state be reduced from 28,000 pounds to 22,000 pounds. This last figure may ultimately be cut to 20,000 pounds before the measure is finally presented to the legislative body.

The loads that are being hauled over the highways at present are tearing them to pieces. To make the trucking companies pay their share toward the upkeep of the highway system, an additional weight tax, aside from the present horse-power tax, is being planned for assessment on freight hauling trucks.

Supervisor Wright said: "We in Los Angeles county know that we have not solved the road problem, but we are working at it constantly." He told of the demonstration of the effects heavy loads have on highways that was given some time ago in Pittsburg, Calif. This demonstration is to be renewed, and Mr. Wright said that supervisors from this county are to witness it and expect to broaden their present knowledge.

The help of the county was pledged to Glendale whenever help can be legally given. That the county is not through assisting Glendale in its flood control work was intimated by Supervisor Wright. He also said that the county would assist this city in securing the bridge connecting this city with Griffith Park.

The board adopted a resolution thanking the entertainers and others who assisted in successfully entertaining the Southern California commercial secretaries when they held their meeting in Glendale.

Another resolution relative to the railroad strike was adopted. This resolution was adopted at the request of the California Development company of San Francisco.

DIRECTORS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS ON RAIL STRIKE

Desire President and Gov. Stephens to Use Powers to Save Fruit Crop

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce adopted the following resolution regarding the railroad strike:

Whereas, there now exists in the United states a very serious condition with the railroad strike whereby perishable fruits, vegetables and farm products are threatened with delay in forwarding and in transit to their distant markets;

Therefore, be it resolved, that it is the sense of the board of directors of the Glendale chamber of commerce that the President of the United States and the governor of the state of California be urged to use the full powers of their office to the end that the shipment of these perishable fruits, vegetables and farm products is not interfered with and that they be dispatched to their destination without delay, and

Be it resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to the chamber of commerce in the state of California with the request that they take similar action.

SOUTHEAST FOLKS SETTLE DISPUTE PEACEFULLY

Commercial District in Glendale Heights to Be Established as Planned

The people in the southeast corner of the city have come to a peaceful agreement as regards the establishment of a commercial district in the Glendale Heights tract on East Palmer avenue. Mr. Haddick of the Haddick-Nibley company has agreed to place the store buildings back 15 feet from the curbing, to place a $3,000 restriction on each of the buildings and to permit no dwelling to be erected in connection with any of the business buildings.

This arrangement satisfied the property owners in the adjacent vicinity and each man journeyed back to his own fireside carrying that victorious smile.

FISK TIRES STOLEN

A bundle containing three Fisk tires was stolen, Saturday, from a truck belonging to the Los Angeles-Oxnard Stage company, according to H. E. Fleisher, manager of that company. The tires were being shipped from the Fisk Tire company of Los Angeles to George H. Lodwig of Oxnard. A reward of $25 is being offered for the return of the tires.

PRINT SHOP FIRE

Fire broke out in the Superior Printing company, 104 South Isabel street, at 10:10 o'clock Monday. The fire department responded immediately and little damage was done.

It Is Quality and Not Quantity That Makes for Value

Work alone produces wealth," philosophizes James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" this evening, in which he treats on the quantity and quality of things. Anything of which there is a great quantity and of wnich everyone may have an abundance is not in much demand, but the quality makes for quality more than quantity. As usual there is a sound lesson hidden away in Mr. Foley's contribution this evening.

Henry James this evening discusses the marriage of John D. Rockefeller's granddaughter to a man many years her senior and contradicts some recent statements that age in married life makes no difference. In fact he most determinedly avers that it "makes all the difference in the world." Then he queries who might be appointed the child's guardian, asserting certainly not her father, who appears to need one as sorely as the girl.

Editorials this evening are entitled "At a Standstill," "The Land of Picnics," "Getting Rich From Oil," "A Tireless Worker," "Reckoning the Cost," "Tired of Weeks." Each one of them, as the titles indicate, are worth reading and carry much of interest. The other daily features among which are John Pilgrim's article, Dr. Frank Crane's eastern point of view, and scientific articles complete the editorial page of this paper.

W. BROADWAY PAVING IS CONTRACTED

Bad Stretch Between Pacific and San Fernando to Be Improved

TO BE 10 FEET WIDER

Five-Inch Asphaltic Concrete Roadway Called For in Bid

Good news comes to the residents of West Broadway and also to everyone living in Glendale in the awarding of the contract for the improvement of West Broadway between Pacific avenue and San Fernando road to Ducy & Breitenstein, prominent road contractors. The contract was awarded last night by the city council. Ten days are granted to contractors to sign this contract and after this fifteen days will be given for the commencement of the work.

This is one of the most important pieces of roadway in Glendale and there is hardly a street in Glendale that has been in such poor condition for the past few years as has this stretch. At this time it is the principal entrance to Glendale from the west and is anything but a favorable advertisement for the city in its present form. However, the dirt will soon be flying and almost before it is realized this roadway will be widened 10 feet and will be improved from curbing to curbing with a dandy 5-inch asphaltic concrete roadway. Then visitors can come into Glendale over a table-like roadway, of which the city as a whole is proud.

SHRINE CLUB TO STAGE PICNIC IN NEW PARK

To Be Host to Clubs of Sister Cities, and Beach Cities

The Shrine club will be the first Glendale organization to swing into line to use the new city park for its affairs, when on Wednesday, August 30, it will hold a picnic in the new park as host to all its own members, to Al Malikah temple of Los Angeles, the Pasadena Shrine club, the Hollywood Shrine club and the Shriners from San Pedro.

One of the biggest and most entertaining programs ever attempted will be put on by the Glendale club in this initial effort in the canyon.

CASA VERDUGO PETITION FOR ADMISSION TO CITY PRESENTED TO COUNCIL

Clerk Instructed to Check Names of Signers Against the Great Register to Ascertain the Accuracy of the Appeal of District

W. B. KELLY ANNOUNCES MASS MEETING

Detailed Report of Responsibility of Cityship Will Be Given to Promoters of Movement to Extend Glendale Boundaries Northward

A petition asking that an election be called for the annexation of Casa Verdugo to the city of Glendale was presented last night to the city concil by W. B. Kelly, as forecasted exclusively in the Glendale Daily Press Monday night. The city clerk was instructed to check the signatures.

In presenting the petition Mr. Kelly said:

"The people up there are almost unanimously in favor of annexation to Glendale at this time. They ask that all of that section that is not in Glendale be taken in and that the operation be performed just as quickly as possible."

The petition was accepted by the council and the city clerk was instructed to check the names against the great register to see if there is the required number on the petition.

When asked if there was any assistance the council could give to the people of Casa Verdugo in this matter Mr. Kelly said:

"There is. We would like to have a detailed report of the benefits the people of that section will receive if annexation takes place. We want to know the cost of water and the other public utilities and everything like that. We want to be able to show the people up there the advantages Glendale holds out to them. Also, we intend to hold a mass meeting soon at which we would like to have the members of the council. There are many questions the people of that section would like to have answered."

All of the members of the council stated they would be more than glad to attend any such meeting and answer any questions they possibly could relative to annexation.

Give New Municipal Park A Real Glendale Send-Off

The Entrance to Glendale Verdugo, New City Park

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Civic Development Expert

Today is THE DAY. This day marks an epoch in the career of marvelous Glendale. It is a day to celebrate.

For on this day, August 16, Glendale formally takes possession of her new park, HER ONLY PARK. A city without a park is like a mansion built on the edge of a highway without yard or runway. The mansion may be beautiful in itself but much of its charm will be lost in the absence of surrounding grounds.

The lack of a municipal park has been one of the very few defects of beautiful Glendale. With that lack supplied, this marvel among cities takes a long step toward her goal as the METROPOLIS IDEAL.

And where could fairer breathing spot and playground be found? Out among the Verdugo hills, rich in historic association and richer in scenic charm, the new community park lends itself to artistic landscape treatment of the most attractive sort.

With a qurater-mile frontage on the picturesque Verdugo road, directly opposite the beautiful Verdugo Woodlands, the Glendale city park comprises a total of 173 acres, 105 acres having been acquired in recent purchase, supplementing 68 acres acquired some years ago, but unavailable as a park site until the larger tract was taken over.

Occupying hillsides, canyons and level ground, heavily wooded with 57 varieties of trees and shrubbery, with six springs and tinkling streams, the municipal playground is a veritable FAIRYLAND. The addition of an automobile road, through the main canyon and to the crest of the hill and ultimately down the other side to Flintridge and the laying of trails to a score of scenic lookout points will make it one of the most alluring city parks on this continent.

Everything that Brookside park is to Pasadena the Glendale Verdugo park—name suggested by the local chamber of commerce—may become to Glendale and a good deal more, for it possesses more wild beauty than the Pasadena playground.

That is why today is a RED LETTER DAY for citizens of Glendale. The park they have dreamed about and wished for is now theirs. The formal opening today by the Glendale Credit association with a community picnic ought to be the most successful outdoor celebration ever held in Glendale. There'll be music and games and refreshments and dancing and fireworks. The program runs all day and late into the evening. Everybody is invited and EVERYBODY, who can, OUGHT TO GO.

Give the Glendale municipal park a real Glendale send-off. It marks the beginning of a new community era for this marvelous gate-city of PROSPERITY.

Horsepower Serum Replaces Monkey Glands Now

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Horsepower serum has replaced monkey glands as a restorer of youth, leading men of the scientific world believed today.

Discovery of the latest invigorator, which is said to prolong human life beyond 150 years, was made by Dr. Henri Spahlinger, Swiss scientist, whose serum and vaccine treatment for tuberculosis has made his name well-known throughout the world.

It requires from one to four years to produce the life-prolonger and seven horses are needed for the manufacture of one complete treatment.

A business assistant of Dr. Spahlinger's, a man of years, writes this testimonial of the longevity lotion to the Daily Express:

"The injections made me feel strong as a lion. They gave me an abundance of stimulation and a marvelous fund of energy. I have never felt the faintest reaction from the treatment."

According to other assistants of Dr. Spahlinger, who have also undergone treatment, the horsepower serum imparts the look of youth to the face as well as giving the throb and vigor of youth to the body. They say that the lines and creases of age are smoothed out so marvelously that death seems a "ridiculous impossibility."

15 GRADUATE NURSES GET SHEEPSKINS

Exercises of Glendale Sanitarium and Training School Are Held

WESTPHAL SPEAKS

Beautiful Decorations and Adventist Church Orchestra Mark Affair

In the presence of a large audience, last night, the diplomas for which the graduating class of nurses in the training school of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital have worked so hard and faithfully, were bestowed at the Seventh Day Adventist church on North Isabel street, where the commencement exercises were held.

To William M. Johnson, M. D., was delegated the pleasure of rewarding the graduates with the sheepskin, and the address of the evening was made by the well-beloved Dr. H. G. Westphal, whose exhortations were calculated to inspire them to the highest, most disinterested services in their chosen profession.

The stage was beautifully decorated in the class colors, ivory and emerald, the class flower being the Shasta daisy.

Selections were played by the church orchestra, while the audience was assembling, and then Meyerbeer's splendid processional, "The Prophet," was played with dignity and sympathy by Mrs. E. Swartsfager, violinist; Edwin J. Moore, cellist; Miss Dorothy Thew, piano, and Mrs. A. Belle Johnson, organ. This was the signal for the entrance of the class, who divided as they entered the church, preceded by the under-graduates, who passed the length of the aisle on either side and stood at attention while the graduates passed to the places assigned them, the under-graduates then taking the seats allotted them in the center, facing the pulpit.

Clarence W. Dortsch rendered a fine baritone solo, "The Day is Ended" (Bartlett); the invocation was made by Dr. Riley Russell; a male quartet known as "The Jubilate Four," sang "Remember Thy Creator" (Rhodes); two violin numbers by Fritz Kreisler, "The Old Refrain" and "Caprice Viennois," were played by Fred L. Clint; Daisy D. Harris, R. N., superintendent of nurses, administered the solemn Florence Nightingale pledge, and the diplomas were bestowed by Dr. Johnson with a few appropriate words to the class. The benediction was pronounced by Pastor W. M. Adams.

Following is the class roll: Ethel May Anderson, James Elwood Moore, Lela Douglas Barnhart, Lutie Eleanor Marple, Beatrice Hazelle Christian, Celena Louise Schleifer, Leona Belle Fisher, Anna Atalia Scheffel, Judith Louella Herling, Daisy Vivian Reid, Pearl Marjorie Hodge, Anna Anora Peters, Elsie May Lord, Marion Elvena Darrell, and Norma Holbrook Rogers.

THURSDAY CLUB DECIDES BUY LOT AND PROCEED WITH BUILDING OF HOME

Business Meeting Held Yesterday Concludes Time Is Ripe for Investment; Many Lots Are Submitted for Consideration of Organization

MEMBERS TO WORK FOR BUILDING FUND

Dr. Mabry Is Thanked for Effort to Secure Options in Behalf of Members, and Committee Is Appointed to Close Deal for Land

Tuesday's meeting added another important page in the history of the Thursday Afternoon club when it was decided that the organization should purchase a lot upon which to build a new clubhouse in the future.

This special meeting was called for Tuesday afternoon and was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, corner of Laurel street and Brand boulevard. Owing to several of the members being away on vacations the attendance was not as large as had been expected, but nevertheless, enthusiasm ran throughout the entire meeting.

Mrs. W. C. Mabry, club president, opened the session, stating its purpose and introducing her husband, Dr. Mabry, who set before the club in a very explicit manner, several lot locations and prices which were thought favorable for clubhouse sites.

He spoke in particular of two lots on the south side of West Cypress street, between Central and Maryland avenues, which could be purchased for the sum of $5000 from their owner, Mrs. M. N. Denman. These lots are each 50x176½, with a north front, and Dr. Mabry considered them very reasonable in price, considering their central location.

Arrangements for the purchase of the site considered most logical for the proposed club house were made with Mr. Denman, by realtor Charles B. Guthrie, who generously and voluntarily relinquished all claims to commission. At the last moment it became known that Mr. Denman last April had given the H. L. Miller company an exclusive contract for sale of these lots, making it necessary to secure a release from commission to this firm. Through Mr. Allen this complication was speedily removed and the deal concluded. Mr. Denman also gave the club a substantial concession in price, making the lots cost $4500 to the club.

There was much discussion both for and against this proposition. Some of the members felt that the responsibility of making this purchase just at this time was too great, but it was brought out that if the members had some direct incentive to work for—such as a new clubhouse—their efforts would be greater and bring better results.

A motion was made by Mrs. E. V. Bacon, past president of the club, to buy these lots at a cost of $4500. The motion was seconded and when voted upon carried almost unanimously.

A rising vote of thanks was given Dr. Mabry for his time and effort spent in securing information on this matter.

A committee consisting of the president, Mrs. Mabry, the secretary, Miss Eva Daniels, and the treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Brown, was appointed to close the deal.

It was announced that on next Saturday evening the club would hold a moving picture show at the Yeoman hall on South San Fernando road. The picture to be shown is "Keeping Up With Lizzie," a very good comedy. It is hoped that a large crowd will turn out. Club members are also planning a bazaar to be held some time late in October, the date to be announced later.

PAGEANT OF FALL FASHIONS OPENS AUGUST 24

To Take Place at the T. D. & L. Theater

"The Pageant of Fall Fashions," which is to include the displaying of the season's latest modes and styles which are to be handled this year by Glendale's leading merchants, has been announced to take place at the T. D. & L. theater on Thursday, August 24. Peggy Hamilton, premier designer and fashion authority of the west, as well as one of the leading ones in her line in the entire country, has been obtained to take personal charge of the gala affair—this fact alone assuring the feminine contingent of Glendale and surrounding towns of a pageant that will rival those of even the ultra-fashionable hotels and resorts.

Miss Hamilton, who has recently become a resident of Glendale, has agreed to stage the affair here only on account of her strong attachment to the community, having turned down several inviting offers to appear in her "newest home town." The entire show, which will include the displaying of fall wear by ten beautiful and experienced models in addition to Peggy Hamilton, is being presented by McGillis-Miles, Enterprisers, both of whom are local residents.

The garments which have been selected for the revue are from the regular stocks of Glendale's first-class wearing apparel shoppes, Miss Hamilton giving personal attention to the selecting of the many attractive creations.

Mrs. E. C. Pendroy of Pendroy's, who returns this week from her annual buying trip to New York, has announced that she has obtained some of the smartest goods ever to be shown in Glendale, the gowns, dresses, furs, etc., being absolutely the latest creations from the nation's fashion center. A more complete announcement of the display will be given within the next few days.

Hatz, whose beautiful wearing apparel is admired by thousands of Glendale women, will show the same high-class display which is to be expected of a firm with such an enviable reputation. Evening dresses, street wear, sport costumes and coats will comprise the principal part of this exhibit.

Josephine Des Mazes, Glendale's newest and most up-to-date milliner and designer of hats, promises to add prestige to the show, her exclusive line of goods establishing her as the highest class milliner in the city. She is one of Glendale's newest business women, having located in the attractive court shops on East Broadway.

Sherrod's Specialty Shop will be represented on the all-star program with a showing of an entirely new line of sport wear, in addition to a number of creations which have not yet been made public.

The Glendale Dry Goods Store will devote an entire act to the exhibiting of women's and misses' ready-to-wear garments, including dresses, coats, hosiery, etc.

Heading the list in the afternoon matinee, which is to be strictly a lingerie affair for ladies only, the La Facile Corset Shop will exhibit numerous creations in their line, the display to be one of Peggy Hamilton's original ideas and a complete novelty in Glendale. The La Facile Corset Shop is likewise one of the city's newest firms, it being conducted in connection with Mme. Des Mazes' millinery store in the court shops.

Exhibits in the lingerie matinee will also be furnished by Pendroy's, Hatz, Sherrod's and the Glendale Dry Goods company.

OKLAHOMA HAS FIRE MYSTERY

Twelve Blazes Start in Waggoner Farmhouse

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 16.—Oklahoma's greatest mystery is as yet unsolved.

Twelve fires recently broke out in the home of J. L. Waggoner, farmer, living two miles in the country. Window curtains went up in smoke. Bed clothing became mysteriously ignited. Holes were burnt in rugs, and, to cap the climax, a wet rag hanging in the kitchen of the house was consumed as so much excelsior.

Origin of the blazes has never been determined. Occupants took the first few blazes as a matter of fact, but on the second day, following a night of fighting fires on the roof of the house, in clothes closets and under beds, the blazes were reported to county authorities.

A guard of heavily armed deputy sheriffs was deployed around the house and kept there for three days. No more fires occurred.

During the two days of fires, and since, Waggoner refused to move his family from the house, in spite of recommendations of friends and authorities.

Theories that enemies of the family were trying to burn his home were scoffed at by Waggoner. "If any member of my family ever had an enemy I do not know about it," he said.

Dr. I. H. Godlove, instructor in chemistry at the state university here, declared the fires were not started by chemicals, as was first generally believed.

The house, a two-story, square, frame building, setting back from the roof, and in a permanent shadow from surroundings and overthrowing trees, for the past half-century has had the reputation among natives as being "haunted."

The building was unoccupied for many years, prior to the moving in by the Waggoner family. Waggoner's corn field was mysteriously burned shortly after he moved to the house. Two years later the family awoke to find their barn in ruins, the last flames dying down.

HISTORIC DAY TO BE MARKED

BURLINGTON, N. C., Aug. 16.—This town will celebrate "Almanac day," August 17, with a parade and a reproduction of a historic battle which preceded the Revolutionary war.

Hundreds of red-coated "supers" will take the parts of British soldiers, and other hundreds in the garb of pioneers will represent the "Regulators."

A protest was entered by Mrs. Martha J. Miner against the improvement of Pacific, from Broadway to San Fernando road, and August 31 was chosen as a date of the hearing of protests against this work.

MISS M'PHERSON BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. STOCKER

One of Prettiest Functions of Season Marks Nuptials of Young Couple

One of the prettiest home weddings solemnized in Glendale this season took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson, 607 North Central avenue, when their daughter, Miss Vera McPherson, was united in marriage to James W. Stocker, of Redlands.

The single ring ceremony was used, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The young couple entered the artistically decorated living room to the strains of a wedding march, played by Mrs. Melvin West. They stood in front of a bank of ferns and greenery, palms and potted plants and large, silver baskets filled with beautiful pink asters. The bride was given in marriage by her father, H. A. McPherson.

Miss McPherson was beautiful in a gown of white satin and silk lace. She wore a silken veil, fastened with orange blossoms and pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses.

Miss Margaret McPherson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was charming in a gown of pink organdie, carrying a bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses and maidenhair fern. Lawrence Stuart acted as best man.

Just preceding the ceremony, Miss eVra McKee Neighbours sang "At Dawning."

A reception followed the ceremony. The dining table was beautifully decorated with a large basket filled with pink asters and tied with a pink maline bow, and four glass candlesticks, holding pink candles, tied with pink maline bows, were also used. Between the living and dining rooms hung a beautiful wedding bell, made entirely of pink and white flowers and greenery.

Following the reception the young couple left for Big Bear, where a new summer home has been completed for them, and where they will spend six weeks. They will make their home in Eagle Rock or Pasadena.

Mrs. Stocker graduated from the local high school, and has made Glendale her home for several years. She met Mr. Stocker while teaching school at Big Bear. She was a popular member of the younger set, and has a host of friends here.

Mr. Stocker is an ex-service man, having spent ten months of active service in France with the 316th battalion, field signal corps, 191st division.

Guests who attended last evening were Mrs. Sarah Stocker, Mrs H. L. Crane, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C Brandenberg, of Big Bear; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stocker of Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Thompson of Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Zimmer of Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ganter and daughter, Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leddy, Mrs. Irving Bolen, of Pasadena; Miss Marion Hindman, cousin of the bride, of Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pannier and daughter, Mildred, of Torrance; Mrs. Dorothy Young of Pasadena; Mrs. R. W. Sharp, Mrs. H. B. Mathwin, Miss Mabel Mathwin, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gullie, Mrs. Maude Gullie, Mrs. P. W. ARTHUR DIBBERN HAPPY IN SHOP OF HIS OWN

Business Comradships Brings Satisfactions Apart From Money

It is less than a year since Arthur Dibbern opened the attractive jewelry establishment at 121 North rand, after having been connected with Brock & company of Los Angeles for sixteen years. In the months that have elapsed since he made the venture even in his most passimistic hours he has never regretted the change, he says. Apart from money considerations it is a satisfaction to be a part of the business life of the community and to know that you are conducting a shop that is a credit to the town and helping to build it up. In other words, there is a commercial comradeship not realized by the employe.

"I can honestly say," said he, "that my business has realized my expectations. June had a fair amount of weddings, which always brings orders to jewelers, and July was even better, in fact, the best month since Christmas. I find that the volume of business in the summer keeps up out here even better than it does in Los Angeles, and the people want staples rather than fads.

"I have found a very good demand for fancy stationery, die work, embossing, etc., such as engraved calling cards, greeting cards, wedding and other announcements. They are made by the same engravers who work for the big houses in Los Angeles, and the people are discovering it is easier to order through me than to go to the city for it.

"Glendale is also developing quite a demand for diamonds, particularly the engagement variety, the kind of orders a jeweler always likes to get. If our high school attendance continues to increase at the 40 per cent rate mentioned by Mr. Moyse, you can see how the engagements and marriages will increase.

"I have already placed large orders for goods to meet the big Christmas demand I am confident we will have."

WHIRLWIND SALE BY CALIFORNIA AUCTION CO.

Home of Mrs. Laura E. Brooks Is Disposed of Another whirlwind sale was made by the California Auction company, 205-A North Brand, today, when the home at 409 West Pioneer drive, formerly belonging to Mrs. Laura E. Brooks, became the property of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Juareska of Upland. Mrs. Brooks has had the place on the market for seven and a half months, but it was only listed for a week with the firm who made the sale.

The California Auction company appears to have solved the problem of successful real estate business, for they "get rid of" whatever they "go after."

NOTED VIOLINIST AND FINE FILM AT T. D. & L.

One of the season's best entertainments is now being presented at the T. D. & L. theatre by Ralph Allan. The feature picture and the personal appearance of Clyde Morris Cates, the wonder violinist, are the two big, outstanding features of the program.

"While Satan Sleeps," comparable with the famous "Miracle Man" picture, is indeed an exceptionally fine motion picture. The story is by Peter B. Kyne, and features Jack Holt.

Clyde Morris Oates received much applause and rendered several numbers in concert and with the Ampico, courtesy of the Shuck Music company.

LABOR RECORD OF CHARLES C. MOORE

Fourth of Articles Dealing With the Character of Johnson's Opponent

This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the life of Charles C. Moore, republican candidate for the nomination for United States senator for California. It tells of Mr. Moore's great labor record.

Contented labor on construction jobs during the past 28 years, including the building of the great Panama exposition and many other important building operations involving the employment of thousands upon thousands of men and women, is the record made by Charles C. Moore, candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator.

The engineering firm of which Moore is the founder and present directing genius has not had a single strike called on any of the construction jobs it has undertaken since it first began business in 1894. Friendly relations have been maintained by conference, and in the few instances that labor became restless, the troubles were easily smoothed over by Moore in personal talks with the men on the job.

The American Federation of Labor came to the support of Moore in the most serious labor difficulties he has encountered in his 28 years of association with labor, during the three years of construction of mills and power plants at Tonopah, I. W. W. agitators tried unsuccessfully to stir up the workmen on the job, and the American Federation of Labor gave its support to Moore. There were no labor troubles on that job.

The world-famous exposition of 1915, of which Moore was the head, is known as the first World fair in history to be carried out without a single strike, and Moore is given the credit for this achievement.

The size of the payroll of the Moore company varies between 200 and 3000 men, depending on the work under way. During construction of a potash plant at San Diego several years ago, 3200 men were given work. That job, as well as all the other important construction jobs completed by the company in its 28 years of labor employment, was carried through without a single strike being called. This clean record has been maintained in spite of growing restlessness of labor, and many strikes and disturbances of other building operations.

Besides the construction work carried out with harmonious labor conditions by Moore, friendly relations with his workers have characterized all his private enterprises. The olive groves which he owns and operates in San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties, giving employment to hundreds of picking crews during the harvest season, have not been marked by labor difficulties. The ranch in Shasta county where Moore specializes in raising blooded stock to improve the livestock situation in California, has been free from unrest among the men working there, and Moore's farm at Santa Cruz has always been peacefully conducted.

All absence of labor troubles has also characterized the California Central creameries, of which Moore is an active director, and which employs about 1000 men on ranches and in creameries all over California. The creameries have never been troubled with strikes, and Moore is given much credit for this condition by his co-workers.

NEW GLENDALIAN IS DAUGHTER OF OREGON

Alice Watters Is Grandchild of First Child Born in Territory

Miss Alice Watters, who, in partnership with Miss Florence Martin, has established the very attractive Alice-Marie Gift Shop at 618 East Broadway, has an unusual distinction. She is not only a real daughter of the Golden West, but is the granddaughter of Jane Baldro, who was the first white girl child born in Oregon.

Mrs. Baldro is still living in Portland and recently celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday, when she was royally entertained by the Pioneers' association. She and her little Indian comrades played on the sites of the largest buildings in the city. The first wooden building, except the rude structures used by the Indians, was built by Miss Watters' grandfather for the Hudson Bay company.

When asked how she came to Glendale, Miss Watters explained that she lived here for a time four years ago with her sister, Mrs. C. W. Johnson, and then grew to know and love the town. Her family now live in Santa Monica, but her heart was true to the Jewel City, and when she and Miss Martin, who is also an Oregonian, were looking for a location for their business, they naturally gravitated to Glendale.

'WHAT NO MAN KNOWS' AT THE GLENDALE

Clara Kimball Young in Biggest Picture of Her Career

What is pronounced by critics to be the best starring vehicle Clara Kimball Young has had in years will be the offering at the Glendale theatre, beginning today. The picture, "What No Man Knows," was filmed from Sada Cowan's original story, and shows how valiantly a real woman can fight for the possession of the greatest thing in life.

In no role of recent or past accomplishment has Miss Young ever appeared to such advantage as in this new picture.

Her physical loveliness is always hailed with delight by fans everywhere and this, coupled with her dramatic powers, never fails to bring photoplay entertainment of the highest type.

In "What No Man Knows," Miss Young seeks to recover from the dregs the man she loves and who has unfortunately fallen into oblivion through the evil machinations of a self-seeking and false wife.

THRIFT IS NOT PARSIMONY
Many people confuse the terms "thrift" and "parsimony" and despise the former as they do the latter.
But thrift is not parsimony. It is generosity wisely applied. It means care in managing, wisdom in spending, and diligence in saving.
Thrift is essential to the world today, for it provides the accumulation of capital which makes possible our great industrial development, our water power projects, and our irrigation systems. Without it, we would still move in the dark ages.
And thrift is a habit—not a hardship. You can soon acquire it if you open a Savings Account in this Bank and lay aside a regular sum each week or month.
And the thrift habit is worth while.

Truths in Epigram

A little folly is desirable in him that will not be guilty of stupidity. — Montaigne (1533-1592).

When I am here, I do not fast, on Saturdays; when at Rome, I do fast on Saturday.—Apgustine (354-430).

Whatever may befall thee, it was preordained for thee from everlasting.—Aurlieus (121-180).

AT A STANDSTILL

As this is writing trains on some railroads are standing still. The crews decline to move them. They insist that they will not work where the presence of armed guards annoys them, and as they say, exposes them to unnecessary danger. In instances there have been explosions of bombs, and certain accidents that have the color of deliberation.

The sympathy of the public has not by any means rested wholly with either side in this deplorable controversy. Few would attempt to describe the attitude of the management as tending to placate, or as resting on a just conception of the relations that ought to exist between employer and employed. On the other hand few would say that the men are without fault. The country sees the peculiar spectacle of two sets of citizens, each rated high in intelligence, each proclaiming the desire to be fair, and both utterly forgetful of the important fact that the public exists.

That the dispute may be settled fairly to all concerned, this including the public, is greatly to be desired. If it cannot be thus settled without recourse to violence, the conclusion will have to be reached that the common sense upon which Americans pride themselves, is below the standard at which their self esteem has set it. Vast sums are at stake, the comfort and safety of the people of a great nation are threatened, millions of dollars in wages and railway earnings are being lost; while two sets of men defy each other, and the great public enters their minds not at all. It has the seeming of an unforgivable stupidity.

THE LAND OF PICNICS

Probably there never was another section so prolific of social reunions as southern California. These are likely to take the form of picnics. Former residents of other states maintain organizations here. Yearly the members of each get together and in various ways manifest their joy at being among those present. They swap stories about the old home, express their sincere respect for it, but never a wish to go back for more than a visit. The picnics are scattered through the year. Those scheduled for summer never are interfered with by the weather. Others are set for the winter. Seldom does one have to be postponed, although of course there is then some probability of a wet day. The number attending the picnics of states most largely represented is far into the thousands.

These state gatherings are not the only ones showing the vast influx from the east and middle west. There are reunions of ex-residents of certain counties, or cities, or educational institutions. For example, former students of the University of Michigan are to have their annual gathering at Santa Monica this week. The expectation is that 1500 will on hand. Probably there is not a university or college of the first class in the United States that could not muster here a respectable showing.

All such gatherings are significant. They indicate the high quality of citizenship, and the desire to keep alive earlier associations while engrossed in the activities of new ones. They bespeak hospitality and good fellowship. Incidentally, their freedom from climatic interference regardless of season, commends the weather of southern California to the consideration of thoughtful people.

GETTING RICH FROM OIL

Many great fortunes have been founded on oil. In some instances the owners of land which had been purchased without a thought of the potential wealth below the surface, have suddenly found themselves rich. Men with money to procure lands they knew to be oil-bearing, and to develop these, also have stepped into the millionaire class. Of the many individuals who have hopefully bought shares of stock in concerns hastily organized, if any have emerged with profit to themselves, there is no record of their experience. Many of these companies are so constituted that it would be impossible for them to pay dividends even were they to open a moderately liberal producer, or even a "gusher." In many instances that have come to light, the organizers have had no thought save that of lining their own pockets. If receipts have been devoted to development, they have been utterly swallowed by expenses. The sinking of a well to a depth of hundreds or thousands of feet is not a project to be lightly undertaken. In some cases the sales of stock have been openly fraudulent, the promoters knowing that every dollar contributed represenetd absolute loss to the donor, and in the nature of things, could not represent anything else.

Happily the authority of the state has been invoked to check the harvest of the adventurers. They have been forced out of business. Their glittering adversisements are no more to be seen, and the seductive tones of their salesmen have been hushed.

A TIRELESS WORKER

Vice President Coolidge, speaking at San Francisco, not as a politician, but a guest of distinguished men, said of Senator Johnson, "He is a tireless worker."

So far as may be discerned, this leaves the senior senator about where he had been. There has been no denial, so far as comes to mind, that Johnson was a tireless worker. Objections that have arisen are as to the character of some of the work to performance of which he has devoted himself with signal zeal. That he helped the rest of the California delegation to procure tariff protecting California products, was a simple matter of course. That he favors a law preventing child labor fails to be notable, since for a public man to favor a contrary course, would be unthinkable.

Senator Johnson has worked tirelessly to carry out the Hearst policy, opposed as it was by the Harding policy. He fought to defeat the four power treaty, all his utterances touching the subject being in complete consonance with the dictum of Hearst, who had hired him as attorney. Even if there were no objections to his serving as counsel to the arch enemy of the Harding treaty, it seems that in carrying out the policy inimical to the principles and purposes of the republican administration, and the people of this state, he was more than earning his fee; was being, in fact, almost too tireless.

RECKONING THE COST

The cost of a strike seems never to be taken into consideration by persons who promote it. The promotion is in various ways. It may consist in the maintenance of intolerable conditions against which protest is inevitable. It may be by making unreasonable demands. Whatever the basic cause, precipitation of a widespread strike seems to ignore utterly the question of ultimate cost.

If the costs had to be borne alone by the parties to the dispute, the public would be less concerned. It might reason that if men took a notion, however absurd, to sacrifice their own incomes, that such a course was within the rights of the individuals, and feel in it, only the interest incited by the spectacular effect. But since it is impossible for any group to conduct a strike without endangering the welfare of non-strikers, any strike on a large scale becomes a public affair.

An estimate is made that if the railroad strike shall continue more than for a brief period, the fruit growers of this state will lose $50,000,000. This is a considerable sum for combatants to ask non-combatants to lose placidly. This loss is but a single item of a mighty series of losses falling upon a wide area, involving many industries.

Nothing needs saying in relation to discomforts and inconveniences inflicted upon travelers and isolated communities. Such things, it may be assumed, the warring elements entering upon a strike, ignore as trifles. The evil that can be measured in dollars usually has a stronger power of appeal, and even this seems futile.

TIRED OF "WEEKS"

A magazine editor sets forth that the public is tired of "weeks." By this he means such periods as set apart to clean the yard, or paint the hencoops, or for any other purpose in itself worthy enough. Then the editor proposes a corrective by institution of a "mind-your-own-business" week. Thus he falls into the very error he proclaims desire to cure. People who wish to mind their own business do not have to set a date or a limit, or indeed, to say a word about it. All there is for them to do is to mind their business.

Something is to be said on behalf of the advocate of special weeks. There are matters of public concern that are likely to be neglected because nobody has the thoughtfulness to take the initiative. The citizen who feels pride in having a clean lawn, a weedless garden, and his trees trimmed, naturally wants his neighbor to do as well. Perhaps a good way would be to set the example. Nevertheless if the appointment of a stated time for reforming the premises stimulates the lazier individual into activity, it is not doing harm.

Community interests often are promoted by community action. A suggestion that certain work ought to be done, has a distinct value, for it is going to induce the doing of it.

The report that one thousand men were recently initiated into the ku klux in this state, hardly is to be credited. Just now a number are facing the bar as criminals because of having been initiated earlier. Others still, arrived close to the point of being decorated with a sheet, and are glad they withdrew before the sheet has been torn off.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

(Copyright, 1922, by The Associated Newspapers)

HARD TO CORRECT

(Find the error in this article)

It is hard to correct, this use of don't for doesn't. Don't is a contraction of do not.

Doesn't is a contraction of does not.

Many persons say he don't, she don't, it don't, and are serenely oblivious of the fact that they are using poor grammar.

The pointing out of the error and the giving of a suggestion for its correction are simple matters. The real difficulty lays in making the proper expression a habit of speech. However, the determined person will surmount this obstacle.

When he knows what is right he will not be guilty of accepting slavery with habit as his task master; he will force himself assiduously to live in an atmosphere where correctly spoken English rules. This atmosphere can be created by each individual if he knows the right from the wrong, and will concentrate on using what is right.

"The Right Word" will tell you what is right; in as simple language as possible it will explain the faults of those expressions you should not use; it will then be your task to adopt and make permanent the correct forms.

Begin with don't and doesn't. It is a simple matter to get them properly located.

Never use don't with he, she, or it! The word to use with he, she, or it is doesn't; as, he doesn't.

You can use don't with I, we, you, and they; as, we don't.

Yesterday's Error

"A person once said that he should cease trying to speak properly. . . ."

The right word is would.

Vocabulary

"It is likewise to be observed that this society hath a peculiar cant and jargon of their own, and that no othe. mortal can understand."—Swift.

Cant: "Any technical or professional phraseology; words peculiar to a class, set, sect, or calling, as legal cant; sectarian cant; the cant of fashion. (2) The dialect of thieves, gipsies, or beggars; argot; hence, any similar dialect or jargon employed for secrecy. (3) The hypocritical or perfunctory use of speech in order to obtain credit for piety or goodness . . . (4) Phraseology assumed as a fashion or for effect; insincere talk, show of feeling without reality; stock phrases . . . (5) One who cants in any sense; especially a hypocrite."—Standard.

Pronunciation: kant (a as in at.)—Standard, Century, Webster, and Oxford.

Origin: canto (Latin)—I sing.

THE LISTENING POST

If bread grew on trees and everybody had a tree that produced a dozen times as much bread as he could eat, bread would not be worth much.

There would be no demand for it.

Nobody would pay for it.

Because there would be too much of it.

* * *

It is because bread is in demand that it commands a fair price.

The farmer is enabled to get a fair price for his wheat.

And the baker gets his profit for labor.

Because bread does not grow on trees.

* * *

Things in the world have value when they are not so plentiful that everybody has more than enough.

It would be difficult to sell bottled air.

Because there is air enough already to be had for the breathing.

So the man who bottled air and took it out to sell would find the market glutted with free air.

* * *

It is a fine thing, in the opinion of some people, to be a millionaire.

But it depends upon what you are a millionaire of.

You might be a millionaire of beach sand and still be poor.

Not as rich as the man who owned one good hard dollar.

Because your beach sand is too easy to get.

Too much of it.

You could not exchange it for anything.

* * *

And you might be a millionaire of Autumn leaves and starve to death.

Because Autumn leaves have no special value.

They do not represent anything but material for rubbish fires.

So it is not quantity that makes for value alone.

It is the quality of the thing you have a quantity of.

* * *

Over in Russia, for instance, they have quantities of money.

A month's work makes you a millionaire.

In rubles.

But it takes more than the millions you earn to provide the millions you need.

It might take your month's millions in wages to buy you a pair of shoes.

* * *

So there are a lot of theories in the world that do not work out.

The theory that all a government has to do is to print money.

Because money represents stored wealth.

Accumulated labor.

And if there is no stored wealth or accumulated labor behind the money it is not worth much.

Promises to pay are no good unless there is something to pay with.

The note of a man at a bank is valuable as he has ability and disposition to pay.

* * *

So printed money does not seem to have much value unless there is wealth behind it.

And disposition to redeem it with the wealth behind it.

Russia is perhaps full of millionaires of beach sand.

And of Autumn leaves.

Because the printed money is not much more valuable than sand or dead leaves.

* * *

A nation that does not produce and manufacture and exchange and sell goods will starve to death.

No matter how much printed money it may issue.

No matter how many ukases and edicts and proclamations and declarations it may issue.

For work alone produces wealth.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

The Grave of Love—By Thomas Love Peacock (1785-1866)

I dug, beneath the cypress shade,
What well might seem an elfin's grave;
And every pledge in earth I laid,
That erst thy false affections gave.

I press'd them down the sod beneath;
I placed one mossy stone above;
And twined the rose's fading wreath
Around the sepulchre of love.

Frail as thy love, the flowers were dead
Ere yet the evening sun was set:
But years shall see the cypress spread,
Immutable as my regret.

NO PHYSICAL DANGER IN CROSSING RACES

Crossing human races does not produce inferior physical types. According to Prof. W. E. Castle of Harvard University, after a series of experiments on animals under the auspices of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, good races are not made bad by mixing nor can bad races be made good by combination alone.

Mendel's fundamental law of inheritance shows that the individual is a complex of many characters independently inherited. An individual may inherit the color of his hair from one parent and the shape of his nose from the other parent, while in other features he is a blend between the two parents. Among animals, he says, it has been found that when races are crossed which differ in many characteristics, all possible combinations of these characteristics will occur in the second generation of cross-bred offspring. Applying this knowledge to the human race, some eminent scientists have thought it possible that when unlike races are crossed great variability will be found among the second and later generations, and that among the new combinations, such characteristics as long limbs combined with short bodies, big hearts in little chests, and intestines too long or too short to fit in the spaces provided for them, would be found.

"My experiments do not bear out such an assumption," says Prof. Castle. "Crosses made between the largest and smallest known races of rabbits, one weighing three times as much as the other, produced cross breds which were remarkably vigorous and prolific, intermediate in size between the two parent races and later generations showed no return to original size of the pure parent races.

"The inheritance of size depends on factors which are general; affecting all parts of the body. A rabbit of large weight also had long skull, long ears and long leg bones to match the great weight, and a rabbit with short ears was invariably of small general size. We may dismiss as groundless the fear that a mixed human race will necessarily contain physical features of unbalanced proportions.

"As a matter fact some of the best human stocks have arisen as race mixtures. The tall Scotch, and the short stock Welsh are relatively unmixed ingredients of the intermediate but not less successful English type."

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

WHY THE UNITED STATES?

[Manchester Union]

Having no authority to tell the United States what she shall do, the gentlemen of the League of Nations content themselves with the wish that she let down her immigration bars a bit—just far enough to admit a lot of Russian refugees and vagrants who are becoming a pest even to countries in the southeastern part of Europe. They must be extremely desirable citizens if Balkan peoples can't stand for them, we'll say, but this doesn't seem to occur to the gentlemen of the league—they are good enough for America.

But why turn to us? There are several countries in the league which are so greatly in need of immigrants as to be advertising for them. Our good friend, Canada, is ambitiously looking towards a vast immigrant population to develop her wonderful resources, and has plenty of unoccupied land, which we have not. Australia, which has looked askance even upon British immigration, is waking up to the need of newcomers. Several Latin-American countries, members of the league, are feeling the need of new blood and more hands. None of these has hurt itself thus far with costly relief work, and it would seem as if they might do their bit by opening their doors to a few of the derelicts if there were such crying need for somebody to do so. It would seem as if some one of the league states might offer to do work undertaken by the league. Why must the United States do it?

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Naturally the prospective marriage of the granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller is regarded as a matter of news. However fallacious her judgment may be, it is certain that the kid has spunk. Not every youngster would have the courage to tell such a grandsire the precise point to head in.

HENRY JAMES

If often has been a subject of marvel that the rich should be so insistent upon marrying into their own financial class. Matrimony assumes a problematic aspect sometimes because of the lack of money on both sides. Where there is a genuine affection, and at command of either party to the compact, an abundance of ready cash, every obstacle ought to be swept away by this condition.

The fact that makes the girl in this instance seem silly, and in need of a guardian, is not that the man she has chosen has no fortune but that he is thirty years her senior.

"Oser's age makes no difference" avers a recent Brisbanality apropos of this couple.

Age makes all the difference in the world. It is the vital element in relation to happiness. The union of a man of middle age, and a child, is not natural and not pretty, and there are ninety-nine chances out of a hundred that it will end in a smash.

But if the child needs a guardian who shall be chosen? Hardly her father, for he appears to need one at least as sorely as the headstrong girl.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

My next door neighbor is not my next door neighbor any more. He has moved off the street—away from our nice, wide, well paved street with its overarching elms and the pleasant lawns on either hand—to a meaner place. There are no trees or grass there. The sun beats down pitilessly on its shabbiness. I doubt if my next door neighbor will last there very long. He is too old to buck up against misery.

Not that he looked very old last summer when I saw him playing in the golf tournament. A little better than fifty then. Worse than seventy now, I would say at a glance. His wife was a handsome, contented, happy woman. You should see the agony in her eyes today when she left the home in which they had lived for twenty years.

"All our married life," she said. And that's all. Not another word

My next door neighbor has been a hard working and a fairly saving man all his life. Not unwisely frugal, for my neighbors always managed to enjoy themselves as they went along, but they saved wisely. If all had gone well he could have retired in another year or so with a sufficient income. After a man and wife have passed sixty it may not require as much of an income to keep them going. Nor if they leave bridge alone, anyhow.

Then my neighbor did the most damfool thing any man can do. He went on the note of another man.

He didn't tell his wife about it, of course. He was afraid. He did not KNOW whether the other man's business was in good shape or bad. He had signed that note because he had been too weak to refuse. The other man was a good fellow—golf bug, witty, kind hearted—and when he asked my neighbor to sign—

"I signed," my neighbor groaned later. "I did not have backbone enough to say no."

Then there were renewals and the principal kept on growing larger and now they have taken away his home and in a little while he will die. I do not believe that a man who has not blood enough in his carcass to say "no" can survive misfortune of this sort.

I'm not so very sorry for my neighbor. My theory is that if a man makes a fool of himself he can pay for himself. But in cases of this sort the wife pays, too.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—?

Dear Radio: Granting you your request for listeners in to let you know how your radio concerts are appreciated, I am sending this letter to say that my son, daughter and neighbors and myself enjoyed every number of your Friday night concert, is not half expressing our pleasure of listening in. We could understand all of the words by yourself in announcing, also the words in the singing. Permit me this praise: your gentleman singer on Eagle Rock night, you can know we enjoyed more than we ever did "Harry Lauder." All the numbers were clear and distinct, that and that only makes radio a success. We hope you may each week, if not each day broadcast some part or all of the numbers from Eagle Rock of last Friday night's concert. I am an invalid unable to walk out at all, and do enjoy my radio. If at any time you would wish to speak to me, in reply to this letter, you can use my initials H. M. R. over your broadcaster and be assured I am listening in. Wishing you the greatest of success with radio, I am

Yesterday we were able to enjoy your music sent out on the air, although we have only a small Westinghouse receiving set, and a low aerial of only one wire all set up very temporarily, as we are here for only a short time. We get Catalina often, but very little from Los Angeles stations. So far not a sound from San Diego, but a great deal from the ships in the bay. Purely Personal

Miss Helen MacMullin of 215 North Brand boulevard and Miss Ruth Roland of Los Angeles left Tuesday morning for Catalina, where they will spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jensen of Glendale, who have a summer cottage there.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson of 719 East Wilson avenue are leaving soon for Duncan, Okla., to make their home for the next two years. Mrs. Duncan's brother has a planing mill there and Mr. Duncan will take a half interest in that.

A real surprise party was given by the Central Avenue Epworth league in honor of one of its members, Miss Esther Besant, who leaves for Berkeley Wednesday, where she will continue her studies.

The guests arrived at the home of Mrs. L. L. Baker, 1819 South Brand boulevard, and were seated in the darkened rooms when Miss Besant, on her way to the beach, stopped in with a friend.

After the delightful surprise the evening was given over to lively games and an enjoyable social time. Later in the evening a handsome Bible, a gift of the league, was presented to Miss Besant by the president, Mr. Harold Williams. Dainty refreshments consisted of assorted cakes and ice cream.

The guests present were: Rev. and Mrs. V. Hunter Brink, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Baker, Mrs. and Mr. W. W. West, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Nein; Misses Mildred Williams, Mary Oestergard, Ellah Dykeston, Merle Bowen, Ethel West, Jewel Garner, Norma Wallace, Jessie Griffin; Messrs. Ruthford Wallace, Donald Frahm, Norman Frahm, Eugene Conner, Albert Hewitt, Allen Baker, Leland Baker, Ernest Bowen, William Marple, Harold Williams.

Mgr. Brand Boulevard Branch Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank

The other day I saw a statement in the Los Angeles Express by John P. Burke, vice-president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, covering the basic principles upon which bank loans are made, and, because of the importance of this subject and the clean-cut analysis which Mr. Burke made of the subject, I believed that it was proper that it should be reprinted here in order that every man and woman in Glendale who may hereafter desire to make a bank loan may understand the principles governing such transactions.

Mr. Burke's statement follows:

"Just what is the basis of a proper bank loan?

"There has grown up within the past few years a better understanding on the part of bankers themselves as to the relation which the bank must properly hold to the community, and this understanding has done much to create in the public mind a better understanding of the basis on which bank loans can be had.

"A half century ago the average banker honestly believed that it was proper for a bank to be operated almost entirely in the interest of stockholders or the banker himself. Today that is past and the modern banker understands thoroughly that he is merely the custodian—the trustee—for the funds of the community.

"The banker understands that he does not create credit. He understands that he simply allocates it, and that the better this allocation is made the broader the basis for his loans, the better it will be, not only for the community, but for the bank itself.

"In a commuity of diversified interests and products, the credit intrusted to the bank should not be loaned in the interest of any particular group. Credit should be spread as nearly as possible upon the relation which the particular industry bears to the whole productivity of the district served. In other words, if the value of a raisin crop should be twice as great as the value of a prune crop, the raisin growers should receive practically twice the support allocated to the prune growers.

"Whenever the funds of a bank are thus allocated to the community, the question of individual loans is a matter of comparative simplicity.

"The relations between the individual customer and the bank is, of course, a matter of reprocity, the interests of both the customers and the bank itself being served.

"Given a customer who works with the bank, the question of the individual loan can be made upon a very sound basis, generally speaking, provided the applicant, as a condition precedent, can answer properly the three questions below, all of which are vital to the bank and even more vital to the depositors, for, after all, it is the depositors' money which is loaned.

"First. 'Is the moral risk of the borrower acceptable?' In other words, does he want to repay the funds borrowed on the day they fall due?

"Second. 'What are the borrower's plans for obtaining the funds to meet his obligation on the day it falls due, and is the situation such that there is a fair prospect for his plans to mature successfully?'

"Third. 'In case his plans for obtaining the money to meet his obligations fail, has he other acceptable means from which the bank's funds can be returned to it intact?'

"When these principles of modern banking are thoroughly understood both by banking employes and the business interests of a community, the relation between the bank and its customers is solved once and for all."

HUMAN SIDE OF CHAS. C. MOORE IS TOLD

Harry A. James, Glendale Artist, Tells Personal Observations

By HARRY A. JAMES
of Glendale

Having resided in California for the past 15 years, and having followed the political game for almost that length of time, I feel confident that my numerous friends will believe me when I assert that never in that period have we been privileged to support a candidate of such character and reputation as "Charley" Moore.

HARRY A. JAMES,
Glendale's artist, who writes of C. C. Moore.

When he announced that he was willing to submit to the will of the people in the nomination for senator I was amazed. As a politician he would never make a success—but as a true representative of the state of California he will shine in the senate as Johnson never did.

I became acquainted with Mr. Moore during the exposition in San Francisco. Most of us recall that the war promised to kill every prospect of a successful exposition. California in general stood an excellent chance of going broke, as millions had been expended to make the affair something that would set the world talking about California.

In the face of all odds Mr. Moore went to work to make the exposition a success. Not many realize that it was due to the untiring efforts of Charley Moore that California as a whole was able to reap the harvest that has followed, year after year, the wonderful success of the San Francisco exposition.

His engineering ability made Market street the brighest thoroughfare in the whole world. And his skill was manifested on every hand on the exposition grounds.

I have seen him in his busiest moments stop to pet a child that had found joy in feeding the flock of pigeons congregated around that wonderful fountain.

I have seen him stop to chat with the workmen—even if it was only to ask if they could keep warm while that damp fog enveloped them.

I know that labor will be glad of the opportunity to vote for a man like Charley Moore. He has ever been their friend. I wonder how many people realize that Mr. Moore paid his workmen who entered military service the difference in their salary and that doled out by the government during the world war.

I had the pleasure of spending some little time in Washington, D. C., and took the opportunity to go over to the senate to hear California's representative speak.

It happened to be the time when Johnson was absent. I visited the senate a number of times later, but Johnson was always conspicuous by his absence. It was probably about the time the Esch-Cummins law was being discussed. We can depend upon Charles Moore to be in his place.

Mr. Moore has a wonderful personality. When children will watch for a man day after day, and when workmen will stop their busy hammers just to chat about the weather you can depend upon it there is some character in the man.

In the past few days I have interviewed more than 100 people in the city of Glendale regarding the chances of electing Charles Moore. If the feeling towards Mr. Moore in Glendale be any criterion Johnson will have to open another law office, as his senatorial duties will have ceased.

If I am sad and out of tune with me;
If I am in sore trouble or distressed.
If I don't know just how I should be dressed
If there is anything I want to know.
If there is something to be done just so.
A shirt to make, a recipe for cake,
Directions for the broiling of a steak.
If I want art or music, if, in short,
I want advice, knowledge of any sort,
The gamut of a wide creation through
From measuring the stars down to home brew,
If I look through the papers long enough
I'll find it in some syndicated stuff.

If I would know
Most anything on earth and why it's so.
If there is any bit of wisdom I may please,
How many holes there are in a Swiss cheese.
The habits of the ant, how to know birds,
How not to use in speech improper words,
How I can make a mummy if I wish,
Stories about birds and elephants and fish,
Sermon or humor, prose or flowing verse,
Diet and exercise, good, bad and worse,
Thrift, prophecy, philosophy, all done
By every writer underneath the sun,
I only have to look there long enough
To find it in some syndicated stuff.

Men used to write
With quills thrust deep in wells of ink,
And there were other men who used to think.
Poets were born not made so it was said,
Now they're not born but ready made instead.
Alas, we write no more, nor do we aim
To light with genius any torch of flame,
We hack and hew and grind early and late,
And do not flame at all—we syndicate.

BIG SALE STAGED BY GLENDALE MUSIC CO.

Purchases Stock of Northern Music Store for Benefit of Patrons

Mr. Salmacia while on his vacation in the north purchased the complete stock of a music store there.

All these pianos have arrived and the new ones being placed on their sales floor, while the used pianos are being thoroughly gone over in the new workshop in the rear of the store. The buying for cash and the everlasting looking out for a good buy to offer the people of Glendale good pianos at low prices has been Mr. Salmacia's pride. During his stay up north he came in touch with a music store where spot cash was needed. The pianos were purchased at savings from 25 to 40 per cent, and so Mr. Salmacia has decided to pass the saving along to you.

Exceptionally low terms prevail during their sale, and anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano at any time should investigate the Glendale Music Company's inducements now.

TUJUNGA VALLEY TO BE ADVERTISED

Tujunga Realty Board to Start Publicity Campaign in Newspapers

TUJUNGA, Aug. 16.—During the next ten weeks a $3600 publicity campaign will be carried on by the Verdugo Hills Realty board. It is believed by members of the board that by intensive advertising and publicity Tujunga realty may be brought to the forefront in Southern California.

Through newspaper advertisements it is planned to show the exceptional opportunities which Tujunga offers the home builder and the many advantages which a home here gives.

Business firms and property owners will be asked to subscribe to the fund being raised, as it is felt that the advertising will be for the benefit of the community as a whole. The realty board at its last meeting pledged about half the amount necessary, and committees were appointed to solicit pledges for the remainder.

Petition Hearing Fizzles

No action was taken at the hearing of the incorporation petition before the county board of supervisors on Monday. A delegation from Tujunga was present at the hearing in order to present the case but members of the board declared that additional maps and data must be furnished and postponed the hearing for six weeks.

Moore Meeting on Friday

Although both Wilmot Parcher and John Wood, leaders in the formation of the Tujunga Moore-for-senator club, have been ill for the past week and unable to perform the duties necessary for the formation of a club, it has been decided to hold the meeting called for Friday, August 18, in legion hall to hear speakers sent out from Los Angeles.

Barney Goss, an ex-service man, and George McClellan, are scheduled to talk at the meeting and music and other features are being arranged for.

PERFORMANCE PROVES SAVAGE TIRES Are BUILT TO EXCEL

IN SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

Little Heap trade character of The Spreckels "Savage" Tire Company is interested in Seattle's City and County Building on his right and the 42-story L. C. Smith building beyond. This latter structure is the tallest building west of New York.

This series depicts the performance of Savage Tires in different localities. We do not cite, or endeavor to show, isolated cases of exceptional performance—almost any tire company can do that. We have endeavored, rather, to reflect a true condition, showing the very consistent and general satisfaction Savage Tires are giving under every type of service in each section of the country in which they are operating

The city of Seattle and the territory tributary thereto offers a variety of road conditions affecting tire mileage. You have splendid highways, some fairly good and others not so good—the steepness of your hills, especially in the city, must be taken into consideration, too, when considering local commercial service conditions.

In our general office files are certified copies of remarkably consistent performance Savage tires are giving in different types of service in this territory:

In City Commercial Service

A local concern, operating a fleet of cars and using Savage tires exclusively for the past three years, receives 18,000 to 21,000 miles from Savage tires. The unusually heavy duty performed brands this service as really remarkable and far greater than was previously received from other makes of tires.

A general average of 12,000 miles from our tires, received by another local concern, is an increase of 50% over the highest average mileage previously secured.

On Territorial Runs

More than 19,000 miles of service as an average from our 30 x 3½ "D" Type tires is the experience of a company sending a salesman over country roads in this territory. The greater part of this mileage is made off the pavement.

We point with no particular pride to 22,000 miles rendered by our fabric tire in competition with other makes—including cord and fabric tires in territorial service—even though that mileage represents the greatest secured from any make. This we class as an individual record and it does not necessarily prove consistency in general average performance such as we are desirous of showing.

The Savage Cord

We have incorporated into the Savage Cord seventeen outstanding constructional features that make it an exceedingly superior article.

Placed on the market in the Northwest last year, original tires shipped into your territory are for the most part still in service. We have numerous reports of Savage Cords that are still in operation having delivered to date 12,000 to 14,000 miles and even up to 27,000 miles.

¶ Almost any tire will give satisfactory service under ideal conditions. Some makes will even render satisfactory service under certain adverse conditions. Certain makes of tires will perform best on long drives over pavements, other makes will show to better advantage on dirt highways—and so it goes.

¶ Our object has been to build Savage Tires to perform equally well under every condition—on the short haul of the heavily ladened commercial car, on the heated roads of the sandy desert, over mud and stones of the land of forests or the broad dirt highways of the plains.

¶ That we have accomplished our purpose is evident from the results users of Savage Tires are getting—everywhere.
